Cities, Territories and the Struggles for Human Rights: a 2030 perspective

International Conference - University of Padova, 26th - 27th November 2018

The Conference aims at shedding some light over the transformations that lay ahead for cities and local communities, taking the 2030 SDG Agenda as the fundamental yardstick to assess progress, and at charting ideas and experiences that support a claim for a stronger political role of sub-state and non-state territory-based entities in the global world in a human rights perspective.

Speakers include: Paolo De Stefani University of Padova, Yvonne M. Donders University of Amsterdam, Ivan Koprić University of Zagreb, Josep Maria Llop University of Lleida, Koen De Feyter University of Antwerp, Olga Breskaya University of Padova, Sara Tonini University of Cape Town, Gerd Oberleitner and Lisa Heschl University of Graz, Peter Johansson University of Gothenburg, Lilija Alijeva, Martin Crook and Damien Short University of London, Francesco Martone 'In Difesa Di' Network, Aysel Madra Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law, Desirée Campagna University of Padova, Frédérique Hanotier Human Rights Cities Network.

The Conference is organized in the framework of the activities of the International Joint Ph.D. Programme Human Rights, Society, and Multi-level Governance, with the sponsorship of the University of Padova and of the Department of Political Science, Law and International Studies, and in cooperation with the Bachelor Degree Programme in "Political Science, International Relations, Human Rights" and the Master's Degree Programme in "Human Rights and Multi-level Governance".
